GARFIELD PARK CONSERVATORY EVENT AND INSPIRATION KITCHEN

300 N. Central Park Avenue

Chicago, IL

Meet at 11:00 at the INSPIRATION KITCHEN as noted below

Please join the Women Outdoors Garfield Park Conservatory event and PC members, preceded by lunch at Inspiration Kitchen on Saturday, January 20, 2018.

We will meet at the Inspiration Kitchen restaurant at 11:00 a.m. located at 3504 West Lake Street, Chicago. The restaurant is 1 block west of the Conservatory with ample free parking in their small lot and on the street underneath the elevated tracks. Inspiration Kitchen is a non-profit business which trains and employs low-income people for jobs in the food industry. The average cost of lunch is $12 and the food is delicious with ample portions. The choice of exotic teas is impressive.

Directly after lunch we will proceed to the Conservatory located at 300 N. Central Park Avenue, which is 1 block west on West Lake Street which has its own free parking lot. Free-will donations will be accepted within Conservatory. If you have not attended this wonderful event, prepare yourself for a treat; you will see thousands of tropical plants, trees, sculpture, a room dedicated to Jen Jenson and several fish ponds in a setting of magnificent green houses, some three-stories high. The temperature within will be warm and tropical, so be prepare to carry your coat throughout the excursion. For all spenders, there is a small gift shop; it sells ice cream bars, etc..

We are offering this event for the fourth straight year. A nice way to get out of the cold, and be away from home. BRING YOUR CAMERA.

ALL ARE WELCOME. Husbands, parents, friends, children, grandchildren, cohorts, even mothers-in-law. NO PETS PLEASE.

Please confirm your attendance for lunch and/or the Conservatory with Carolyn Edison. Latecomers are welcome.
